IT'S MAGIC IN MINOT!

By BREKKA KRAMER
President/CEO,
Minot Area Chamber EDC

On behalf of our nearly 700 member investors at the Minot Area Chamber EDC (Economic Development Corporation) welcome! North Dakota's Magic City is a community full of energy and truly is a magical place. When Minot was founded in 1886, it became known as the Magic City because as the railroad made its way through our community, Minot grew so quickly it was like magic. Today we feel the same excitement and energy as the Minot area continues to grow.

It really is Magic in Minot! Downtown Minot is a hot spot for development and has it all from the arts and music scene to fun restaurants to gourmet eats and treats of all kinds to local pubs and a wine bar. Plus, so many great shops. The corner of Central Avenue and 1st Street downtown was just named the 2022 North Dakota's Community Development project of the year. Be sure to swing by to see why. Minot State University's campus is beautiful and is full of community events to take in. MSU even has an outdoor summer theatre that's worth a trip to during the summer months. We have an amazing zoo for all ages to love. This year we opened the Magic City Discovery Center, the STEAM-focused education center is a creativity sanctuary where children can be challenged to solve problems and gain life skills while playing in a fun and safe environment with extraordinary learning experiences.

It is the mission of the Minot Area Chamber EDC to advocate for and invest in business activity by being a collaborative partner in the community, focused on improving quality of life for all. We have great partners and big development projects underway including the new hospital, new high school, mix-use space development projects like The Tracks and much more. We are enjoying all the community has today and continuing work to support investment and attract people to the Magic City.

The community is proud of Minot Air Force Base and blessed to have our neighbors to the north. Minot Air Force Base is the only Air Force base with two legs of the nuclear triad, and we don't ever forget the role Minot Air Force Base plays in protecting our country and the nation.

Enjoy the Magic of Minot and you never know, this may be a place you too want to call home.

ABOUT MINOT "MAGIC CITY"

Minot, 'the Magic City,' is located in the valley of the Souris River and is named for Henry Davis Minot. Henry Davis Minot was a close associate of James J. Hill, the "Empire Builder," who was at the helm of the Great Northern Railway.

Initially, the city began as a tent town when the Great Northern was pushing west in the 1880s. When construction of the railroad halted to build a bridge across a coulee west of Minot (Gassman Coulee Trestle), a large tent town immediately spring up which was generally assumed to be the start of permanent settlement. When the selected townsite of Minot became known, the tent town was replaced almost overnight.

Minot's post office was established Feb. 12, 1887.

Minot's current location was selected in November 1886, and was incorporated as a city in 1887.

Today, Minot is a trade center for an area covering northwest and north central North Dakota including Canada and Montana. The city lies within the eastern boundaries of the oil-rich Williston Basin.

The city has a population of 47,789, according to the last population estimate in 2021.

ROOSEVELT PARK ZOO

Roosevelt Park Zoo in Minot is the oldest public zoo in North Dakota. The zoo celebrated its centennial in 2021.

About 135 animals of various species all over the world make their home at Roosevelt Park Zoo. The number increases dramatically when about 3,000 honey bees arrive from a local beekeeper on loan to the zoo for display in the Discovery Barn.

The Centennial Capital Campaign was launched in December 2017, to finance the new habitats for the African lions and Amur tigers.

The lions' habitat is on the east loop of the zoo where other African species are located. The tigers' new area is located near the Zoo's Visitor Center.

A renovation of the existing cat habitats provides new habitat for leopards. A ribbon cutting was held for the leopards' habitat this spring.

Despite going through two major floods in the past 50 years – the flood of 1969 and the flood of 2011 – the zoo has bounced back each time into a fully viable facility for visitors with a wide variety of zoo inhabitants plus providing special programs for the zoo experience.

The 2015 zoo season was the first season since the 2011 flood with all zoo inhabitants.

Additions of new animals, new exhibits and the participation in the Species Survival Program have greatly enhanced the zoo.

Several years ago, the zoo began remaining open through the winter months, weather permitting. The winter opening offers visitors a different type of zoo experience.

Zoo staff continually work to increase visitors' experience and provide new and year-round educational programs for all ages at the zoo. Jeff Bullock is zoo director.

Minot's zoo drew more than 110,000 guests in 2022. It reaches more than 10,000 students through regional education and outreach programs.

Roosevelt Park Zoo is accredited by the Association of Zoos & Aquariums (AZA) and licensed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Know Where to Go

Whether it's a hurt ankle, migraine or fever, we've all wondered where the most appropriate place is to go for treatment. So, how do you know where to go?

To better understand where you should seek treatment, you need to consider if your symptoms require emergent or urgent attention. If your symptoms are severe or life-threatening (emergent), head straight to the Emergency Room.

"People with conditions such as chest pain, stroke symptoms, unconsciousness, difficulty breathing or low oxygen saturations, or heavy, uncontrollable bleeding should come to the ER immediately," said Jeffrey Sather, MD, a physician in Trinity Health's Emergency Trauma Center.

In addition to the critical symptoms listed above, the emergency room is for patients who have been in a major trauma incident such as an auto accident, who are experiencing severe abdominal pain, or who have an injury needing repair such as a major laceration or broken bone.

Primary Care: Simple acute illnesses and chronic condition management

If your injury or illness is not urgent or life-threatening, is a simple acute issue such as a cold or the flu, or is the result of a chronic condition, make an appointment with your primary care provider. Your provider knows your health history, including what medications you are taking and what chronic conditions might need to be considered in your treatment.

If you are unable to see your primary care provider, then FirstCare Walk-In Clinic is the next option.

FirstCare Walk-In Clinic

For acute health conditions that don't require an ER visit, and when your primary care provider can't see you within your expectations, FirstCare Walk-In Clinic is available.

If a patient does not have a primary care provider, FirstCare is available for their acute concerns with the expectation that they establish care with a primary care provider. Conditions that may require the care of the walk-in clinic including fevers, chills, cold symptoms, minor head injuries (without loss of consciousness), simple fractures and sprains, mild wounds and lacerations, and rashes.

FirstCare is open 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. on weekdays and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on weekends and holidays with no appointment necessary. The clinic is located on the second floor of Trinity Health Medical Arts, 400 Burdick Expy. E., in Minot. While the clinic does not take appointments, it does attempt to help you manage expectations by posting current wait times on Trinity's website: www.trinityhealth.org.
